

Help is here to Find, Track, and Locate Evasive Debtors Repo Remarketing announces the launch of its Skiptracing company, Find Track Locate, FTL

Wednesday, May 1, 2012 (Citrus Heights, CA) – When conventional means fail to locate and repossess a vehicle, the financial institution loses money. They have long needed a partner that they can trust to end their frustration. As a result, Repo Remarketing, a national leading repossession and remarketing service, announced the founding of a sister company, Find Track Locate (FTL). Founded in April 2012, Find Track Locate is a nationwide skiptracing partner to credit unions and financial institutions alike.

Repo Remarketing identified that its partners had an urgent struggle, and with our strong position in the industry it was a natural fit. Find Track Locate was founded to bridge the gap of a “dead” account; and successfully complete the challenging process of finding debtors that do not want to be found.

When a borrower defaults on a loan, the process of repossessing the vehicle begins. Sometimes, the individual is a Skip. This has become a larger issue in recent years, as many debtors are no longer naïve to the reality of repossessions. They understand the process and hide the vehicle in question. When this happens, we recommend that a skiptracer is assigned. They're tasked with securing the unit or getting the member to bring the loan current.

Repo Remarketing stepped up to simplify this process for its partners by establishing Find Track Locate, which will work hand in hand with Repo Remarketing to successfully locate, repossess and remarket vehicles. Repo Remarketing has come full circle. Find Track Locate is off to a booming start with several of Repo Remarketing's partners jumping on board immediately; many choosing to automatically escalate to FTL at strategic points. These partners are seeing results of skiptracing and couldn't be more pleased.

Repo Remarketing is proud to have access to a myriad of technologies, as well as a nationwide presence; which has allowed FTL to begin its journey to the top.

Providing value: In a recent survey, Repo Remarketing partners expressed a 95% satisfaction rate. As the newest addition to the Repo Remarketing family, FTL will continue to provide value and cost effective solutions to their partners; in the footsteps of its parent company.
